MORRIS COLLINS CREMATED.

Weird Ceremonies of the Chicago Whitechapel Club.The Body Burned at Midnight on a Huge Funeral Pyre.

ESPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.
Chicago, July 18.—About a week ago Morris Allen Collins, President of the Dallas, Tex., Suicide Club, blew out his brains with a revolver, in a room which he had rented, at 450 West Madison street, for the purpose.

To-day his ashes, gathered from the embers of his funeral pyre on the south shore of Lake Michigan early yesterday morning, are carefully preserved in an urn by the Whitechapel Club, of this city, which, in accordance with his last request, cremated his body early yesterday morning.

Collins' most intimate friend, Honore Joseph Jaxon, had charge of the ceremonies, which were weird and strange in the extreme and paralleled only by the cremation of the post Shelleys' body seventy years ago by Byron and Trelawny.

The funeral pyre of pitch-soaked wood, 18 feet long, 8 feet wide and 20 feet high, was built in a deserted spot thirty miles from the city. At 11 o'clock Saturday night the members of the Whitechapel Club, clad in sombre robes, surrounded the pyre, and the body of the suicides, which had been embalmed, was tenderly taken from its casket and draped in a Greek robe of finest white linen, and laid upon the topmost plank of the pyre.

John C. Thompson, lighted by Charles W. C.
Thompson, lighted by John C. Thompson, and the Whitechapel Club, delivered their decorated bier addressed to the selected from Shelley and Socrates, chanted dirges and rendered Choph's funeral march and Tchaikovsky's "Death of a Child."

It was daylight before the funeral pyre was entirely consumed. The suicide's ashes were then gathered up with silver-plated trowels and placed in an urn.

The ceremonies were planned with great secret and few knew of them until they were over.

ROBBED HIM IN A HORSE-CAR.

Lehr Says He Was Plundered of All $6,000.Detectives Burns and Fitzpatrick, of the Twenty-first Brooklyn Precinct, this morning said they had been unable to get any trace of the $6,000 which Emil Lehr says he either lost or was robbed of while on his way from New York to the home of a friend who lives on Myrtle avenue, Brooklyn.

Lehr told the police that he bought a saloon at 740 Sixth street, New York. He paid $600 down, and expected to pay the balance today. Saturday he withdrew his balance from a bank in Newark, amounting to $2,000, and went to New York.

Lehr confesses that he drank a good deal Saturday afternoon and evening. He left the saloon at 9 o'clock in the evening and started home. He had $2,000 in his pocket, and the money was then in his possession. He carried it in a wallet, which was tucked away inside his negro shirt.

He then crossed the Williamsburg bridge and got on a cross-town car at the foot of Broadway. He fell asleep, and he thinks he was about half an hour away from home.

He then left for his pocketbook, but it was gone. He immediately informed the police but had no clue to offer. He cannot give any account of his movements Saturday or describe any of the passengers who crossed the ferry with him.

RESCUED FROM A FIRE.

A Young Man Saved by Firemen—Other Fires.

Fires broke out at 4 o'clock this morning in the two-story frame dwelling, 327 West Thirty-third street, owned and occupied by Mary Miller. The family are at Coney Island, and a young man named Albert Morrison was in charge of the house. He was partly overcome by smoke during the fire. The firemen took him down on a ladder from the secondstory window.

It is not known how the fire started. About $2,000 damage was done.

Last night a lamp exploded in the apartments of John Connor, at 229 East Forty-ninth street, causing a fire that did not reach the ceiling. The firemen put out West One hundred and Thirty-fourth street took fire in some mysterious manner. The firemen were called to the scene, and alarm reached the tenants, but the explosion was so sudden the fire did only trifling damage.

A slight fire occurred early this morning at 820 Broadway, opposite by Schlesinger & Co., dealers in tea, &c. It originated in rubbish in the cellar.
